

Scotland Evening News

June 2015

News

BREAKING NEWS

Game release causes comas in players.

The new game being Alpha tested by RockStar North is causing the players to enter comas and not wake up. All efforts to disconnect the players have resulted in the body being left vegetative prior to their deaths. If you know someone who has been affected by this then please contact 0131 * to get details on how to maintain their lives while this is being looked into.

Greggs Discontinues Macaroni Pie

A petition has been launched calling on Greggs to reinstate the macaroni pie after it was removed from their Scottish menu. The carbastic pasta snack has been a long-term staple on hot shelves north of the border but was permanently removed last week as the bakery giant looked to "refresh" its pastry offering

Hostage situation in 3rd Day

Little Annie Walker's kidnapping has reached its 3rd day. Her kidnapper, polish immigrant Aleksy is calling for more benefits and advantages being given to those entering the country. Police have evacuated those nearby, and a heavy presence can be seen on the street.

Missing Person Appeal:

Kayleigh Johannson, has been missing since June 16th. Her family are very worried and want her to come home safely. She has blonde mid length hair, blue eyes, is approx 5'4 and aged 25. She was last seen leaving a bar along the Cowgate on the night of the 16th, but never made it home. Police are appealing for witnesses on 0131 *** ****.

Missing Old Man:

Search is on for Bob Doddering, an old man who worked in Crammond Church in the evenings. The local community and his family are worried for his health.

Immigrants shown to help Economy

Evidence emerges that immigrants help increase local economy to counter the growing movement to close Scotlands borders.

Liberton High Blackout

Liberton High School was shut for a week due to the electric supply being destroyed. Due to reopen on Monday for the remaining few days of term.

Crime escalates in CCTV free Cowgate

News of soaring violent crime in the Cowgate due to the lack of CCTV coverage. Groups call for the city to reinstate it and have a complete coverage.

Government downscales oil forecast

The Scottish government has lowered its estimates for how much revenue will be generated from North Sea oil and gas. When it last projected oil and gas revenues, in May last year, it estimated up to £7.8bn in tax could flow from the North Sea in 2016/17.

Local News

Local organiser runs charity gala to raise £200,000 for Help the Heroes.

Classifieds

Cheap Honda HRV

Red Honda HRV for sale. One careful owner. Only 138,000 miles. Cassette player included. Tel: 0131 *** ****

Knee High Leather Boots

Beautiful designer boots, bought before I moved to Edinburgh. Ideal for someone who's not going to walk in this byzantine maze of a city. £25 ono. Box 5409

Brown Vintage Hen Egg store

I got lumbered with this hideous thing in the divorce. Please, take it. Box 4459

Tablets, Mobiles, Consoles

All electronic and electrical devices bought and sold. Original packaging optional. Email: kwik-kash@**.

Man with Van

Man with Van, available for all jobs. Good driving record, able to get from A to B quick. Discretion Guaranteed. Box 2245

Subaru Impreza

Available in Burnt Tangerine Candy Orange. Race Ready. Need to sell quickly because I'm going away for 8 – 15. Box 0260

Events

Martial arts and Meditation a free dojo where you are taught Martial arts and meditation is opening. Please visit!

Edinburgh International Film Festival

World renowned festival promoting the best in international cinema.

Phyllida Barlow exhibition

Renowned Installation Sculpture Artist Phyllida Barlow's current display. Open 11am, every day until October 17th.

Late News!

Wester Hailes targeted by Thugs

It appears that criminal elements in the South West of Edinburgh wish to place their grip on the community. Cameras have been vandalised and residents report that intimidating figures have been seen hanging about. One man claims he was attacked but can't remember what the assailant looked like, or how he ended up where he was.

For more information on news, or to place your own advert, please contact your LST, or the DST on: Scotland.DST@islesofdarkness.com